COMPLAINT
(JURY TRIAL DEMANDED)  RANDY CARNEY, CLERK
BY  D.C.

COMES NOW the Plaintiff, DWAYNE WILLIAMS, by and through counsel, and would file this, his COMPLAINT against Defendants herein, HUNTINGTON-INGALLS, INC. (PASCAGOULA OPERATIONS) and JOHN DOES 1-10, and in support thereof would show as follows:

I. PARTIES

1. Plaintiff, DWAYNE WILLIAMS, is (and was at all times relevant to this action) an adult resident citizen of Jackson County, Mississippi.
2. Defendant HUNTINGTON-INGALLS, INC. (Pascagoula Operations) ("Ingalls"), is a Virginia corporation licensed to do business in the state of Mississippi, with its primary place of business in this state located in Pascagoula, Jackson County, Mississippi. Ingalls may be served with process in the time and manner provided by law through its registered agent for service of process, CT CORPORATION SYSTEM, 645 Lakeland East Drive, Flowood, MS 39232.
3. Defendants JOHN DOES 1-10 are persons and/or entities whose names/identities are currently unknown; who are believed to be (are to have been at pertinent times to the acts/omissions complained of herein) residents of the State of Mississippi; and who may be liable in whole or in part, jointly and severally with other Defendants herein, for the harms and losses complained of by Plaintiff in this action. The actual names of such persons or entities will be substituted for one or more of said JOHN DOE Defendants forthwith if such identities/names are discovered in this litigation.

II. JURISDICTION AND VENUE

4. Jurisdiction and venue are properly in this Court in that the acts and occurrences complained of herein occurred in Jackson County, Mississippi, and the amounts sought herein are in excess of the jurisdictional minimum of this Court. Further, one or more of JOHN DOES 1-10 are believed to have acted in concert and/or conspiracy with Ingalls and/or one another in committing the harms and wrongs complained of in this action, which proximately resulted in harms, losses and damages to the Plaintiff.

III. FACTS

5. Williams was employed at Ingalls for several years, before suffering a work injury for which he previously made claim. Williams later ceased to be employed with Ingalls, and ultimately settled his work injury claim. During the process of settlement, Ingalls attempted to have Williams sign a release agreeing not to reapply with Ingalls, but Williams would not agree to include such a clause in the settlement release. The settlement was nevertheless finalized without Williams ever signing any agreement agreeing to waive rights to be employed with Ingalls or at Ingalls's property.

6. At some point later, Williams became employed through Ranger Industrial Services ("Ranger"), an employment placement company, with "United States Incorporated" ("USI") which was performing contract work on Ingalls's property in Pascagoula, Mississippi. Williams was performing hourly work for USI/Ranger for approximately two months, when he was suddenly informed, on or about April 8, 2016, that he was being terminated. When Williams inquired as to why he was being terminated, he discovered that Ingalls, individually and/or in concert with Defendants John Does 1-10 (Ingalls and said John Doe Defendants are hereinafter collectively referred to as "Defendants"), had caused him to be terminated.

7. Williams discovered that Defendants had claimed to USI/Ranger that Williams was not allowed to work on their property, and that he had signed a document agreeing that he could not work on Ingalls property, whether for Ingalls or another contractor. Williams informed USI/Ranger that this was not true, but Defendants held their position, and Williams thus remained terminated/dismissed from USI/Ranger. Even after being informed that they were mistaken and no such document was ever executed; and upon information and belief, after having internally confirmed that no such document had been executed by Williams; Defendants continued refusing to allow Williams to be employed by any entity performing work for Defendants.

8. As a direct result of Defendants' acts and omissions, Williams was proximately harmed and suffered damages, harms and losses.

IV. CAUSES OF ACTION

A. Intentional/Tortious Interference with Employment, Business Relations/Opportunity and/or Contract

9. Defendants' actions and omissions as described hereinabove, and to be further expanded upon at the trial of this matter, were performed intentionally, maliciously and/or with gross negligence, reckless disregard of consequence, and wanton indifference; and proximately caused Plaintiff to suffer the damages, harms and losses complained of in this action.

10. Defendants knew (and/or were willfully blind to the facts) that their actions would cause Plaintiff to lose his job, and that their representations were inaccurate. Defendants' actions were willfully calculated to cause the Plaintiff to lose his lawful employment (and hence to cause him damages, harms and losses), and were performed for that specific purpose. Defendants had no justifiable right or cause to so interfere with Plaintiffs' employment and/or contractual relations with his employer(s), but did it anyway, which constitutes malice under Mississippi law.

11. Defendants' acts and omissions directly and proximately caused Plaintiff damages, harms and losses, including but not limited to lost wages, incidental damages and expenses, consequential damages and expenses, mental anguish, emotional distress, anxiety, stress, and other such damages, harms and losses to be shown at the trial of this matter.

B. Fraudulent, Grossly Negligent and/or Negligent Misrepresentation

12. Defendants' representations as stated hereinabove and to be further expanded upon at trial were made with knowledge of their falsity and/or reckless indifference and/or willful ignorance to the truth of same.

13. Defendants knew or should have known that persons/entities such as Plaintiffs' employer(s) would rely on such representations, and would terminate Plaintiff, proximately causing harms and losses as described in this Complaint.

13. Defendants intended (or should have reasonably contemplated) that persons/entities such as Plaintiff's employer(s) would rely on the truth of Defendants' representations to the detriment of Plaintiff. Defendants knew or should have known that such persons or entities were ignorant to the truth of their statements/representations.

14. Such representations were made with intent, malice, gross negligence, willful indifference, reckless disregard and general negligence to the harms they would cause to the Plaintiff.

C. Intentional and/or Negligent Infliction of Emotional Distress

15. Defendants' actions/omissions as described hereinabove and to be further expanded upon at trial were performed intentionally, maliciously, with reckless disregard of the effect on Plaintiff, and with wanton indifference to the harms that would result from same. Such actions are of such a character as to evoke outrage and revulsion in a reasonable person, and should not be tolerated by the Courts of this State.

16. Defendants' actions caused Plaintiff emotional distress, mental anguish, anxiety, stress and other economic and noneconomic harms and losses as will be shown at the trial of this matter.

D. Negligence/Gross Negligence/Negligence Per Se

17. Defendants had a general duty not to interfere with Plaintiff's business relations and to cause him to lose his employment, which was breached and proximately caused damages to Plaintiff.

18. Defendants' conduct further was in breach of applicable statutes of the State of Mississippi and other regulations/statutes so as to constitute negligence per se.

E. Civil Conspiracy

19. Ingalls, in collusion, concert and/or conspiracy with other individuals and/or entities referred to herein as JOHN DOES 1-10, acted for an improper or illegal purpose of harming the Plaintiff; and/or were performed in violation of laws or regulations preventing such conduct.

20. Defendants' conduct proximately led to Plaintiff suffering harms and losses as described in this Complaint, which were foreseeable to Defendants at the time they engaged in such conduct.

F. Defamation

21. Defendants' statements regarding the Plaintiff were false, which Defendants knew or should have known through the exercise of due diligence. Such statements caused direct harm to the Plaintiff by causing him to lose his job, as well as any possibility of employment with persons or entities that do business with or for Defendants.

22. Such statements clearly and directly reference the Plaintiff, and the meaning of such statements/representations was clear, and not the subject of speculation, conjecture or innuendo.

23. Defendants' statements directly and proximately harmed the Plaintiff as described in this Complaint and to be further expanded upon at trial.

G. Miscellaneous

24. To the extent that the facts herein give rise to further causes of action not specifically herein named, Plaintiff hereby gives notice that he asserts any and all causes of action which may lie in the premises asserted.

V. DAMAGES

25. Plaintiff hereby makes claim for all damages available under the premises under Mississippi law, including, but not limited to:

- a. Compensatory damages for the harms and losses resulting from Defendants' conduct, including, but not limited to, past, present and future loss of wages;
- b. consequential and incidental damages resulting from Defendants' conduct;
- c. Damages for emotional distress, mental anguish, anxiety, stress, and other such noneconomic damages;

- d. Pre-judgment and post-judgment interest;
- e. Attorney's fees and expenses of litigation;
- f. Punitive and/or exemplary damages in an amount sufficient to punish Defendants and/or to deter similar conduct in others;
- g. Such general and further relief as may be appropriate under the premises, whether or not specifically pled herein.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Plaintiff demands judgment of and from the Defendants, jointly and severally, in an amount in excess of the jurisdictional minimum of this Court, to be determined by a jury and/or the Court in this matter.

Dated: April 10, 2017.

DWAYNE WILLIAMS
